

The Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology (GSAPP) at Rutgers is offering 3 courses in the Fall that are open to undergrads. The information about the courses is below.

PLEASE NOTE THAT THESE COURSES CANNOT BE USED FOR PSYCH MAJOR OR MINOR REQUIREMENTS. THEY CAN BE USED AS ELECTIVES FOR GRADUATION DEGREE CREDIT BUT NOT FOR MAJOR/MINOR CREDIT IN PSYCHOLOGY. ALSO RUTGERS WILL NOT PERMIT STUDENTS TO USE A GRAD COURSE TO FULFILL BOTH UNDERGRAD AND GRAD REQUIREMENTS, SO IF YOU WERE TO ENTER THE GSAPP MAP PROGRAM AT SOME POINT YOU CANNOT COUNT THE COURSES TOWARD BOTH YOUR BA AND YOUR MA.

RUTGERS

Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology

The Master of Applied Psychology (MAP) of the Graduate School of Applied and Professional Psychology (GSAPP) introduces the following

Elective Courses:

❖ Foundation in Alcohol Studies: Biology, Psychology and Sociology

Course Code: 18:844:680

Day: Mondays

Time: 3:35 pm – 6:05 pm

Description: This course provides a review of the essential information about alcohol's acute and chronic effects on biology and behavior and the sociology of its use and misuse.

❖ Intro to Autism Spectrum Disorders

Course Code: 18:844:513

Day: Tuesdays

Time: 6:15 pm – 8:45 pm

Description: This course provides an overview of ASD across a breadth of disciplines and perspectives that will allow students to critically evaluate information about ASD they encounter in other contexts.

❖ Statistical Methods and Research Design

Course Code: 18:844:506

Day: Wednesday

Time: 3:35 pm – 6:05 pm

Description: The primary goal of this course is to provide students with an overview of the statistical methods and designs commonly utilized in psychological research to become a good consumer and producer of scientific research products.