

Dreena Whitfield, entrepreneur behind some of the most recognized social impact brands is coming to Rutgers Newark and you are invited.

Google Startup Grind Rutgers is coming to Newark! Are you looking to become an entrepreneur, do you plan on being a corporate innovator. Do you want to know how to communicate a message that people are begging to hear? If so, we are bringing Google Startup Grind to Rutgers! Come learn, meet new friends and develop your network!

Every major company/brand has a team that strategically works behind the scenes to create a buzz, to help deliver their message to their ideal customer. Our next entrepreneur, Dreena Whitfield has helped drive multiple companies to achieve 7 and 8 figure revenues. Some of the clients that Dreena has helped include Black Lives Matter Founder Patrisse Cullors, Tiffany "The Budgetnista" Aliche and Cory Booker to name a few.

Seating is limited and they are first come first serve. Food will also be provided.
