

Internship in Applied, School and Community Psychology application available for Fall 2019; deadline to apply 3/13/19*

Attention Psychology Majors (and those planning to declare a major in Psychology):

The application for the Internship in Applied, School, and Community Psychology (830:493/494) for the Fall 2019 semester has been posted. You can find it on the psychology website under the section "Forms and FAQs" (<http://psych.rutgers.edu/undergraduate/forms>).

The internship is a unique semester-long opportunity for junior and senior psychology majors in which students spend 2-3 days working in a clinical, school, community, forensic, or hospital setting obtaining valuable experience in psychology. They also take a weekly seminar with the Internship Coordinator. Students receive either 6 or 9 credits for the semester depending on the number of days they intern.

To apply, submit your application as a hard copy to the psychology department at Tillett Hall (hand-deliver or mail) AND e-mail it to the Internship Coordinator, Dr. Marina Gelfand, at gelfanma@scarletmail.rutgers.edu. The last day to apply for the Fall 2019 semester is Wednesday, March 13, 2018. Early applications are encouraged.
