RA positions for Fall: Close Relationships, Identity, and Stigma (CRIS) Lab

Application for Research Assistant

The Close Relationships, Identity, and Stigma lab is a social psychology lab on Rutgers University campus supervised by Professor Diana Sanchez. As a social psychology lab, our studies employ diverse methodologies, ranging from explicit survey measures to implicit reaction time responses, to scientifically assess the antecedents and consequences of gender, racial, and body prejudice, discrimination, and stereotyping, as well as the process of identification and categorization for social category members.

Research assistants in the CRIS lab are expected to be exceptional undergraduates with an interest in psychology. In this vein, we require that all students have a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 and be either a major or minor in psychology. Applicants with coursework in Quantitative Methods, Social Psychology, and advanced undergraduate classes will be given priority.

Participation in the lab is a 1-year commitment (2 semesters). Each semester will grant you 3 credits from course 391/392, Research in Psychology. If you have questions, please contact the lab managers by emailing Rebecca Cipollina and Melanie Maimon

TO APPLY: Please send (1) this completed application and (2) an unofficial copy of your transcript to Rebecca Cipollina (rc1012@scarletmail.rutgers.edu) and Melanie Maimon (mrm390@scarletmail.rutgers.edu)

Name: _______________________________________

Gender: _______________________________________

Race: _________________________________________

Yr/Semester (that you intend to work in the lab):

Spring ___ Year: _____

Fall ___ Year: _____

Major: _______________________________________

College (e.g. SAS): ____________________________

Current year in school (e.g. Junior): ________________

Psych GPA: __________________

Overall GPA: __________________

Email: _______________________________________

Phone #: ____________________________________