Research Assistant Needed for Mental and Physical (MAP) Training Study in People with First-Episode Psychosis

Description: Looking for 1-2 undergraduate research assistants to help with data collection as part of a graduate student's dissertation project. Responsibilities will include facilitating MAP Training sessions, administering questionnaires and computer tasks to research participants, and data entry. Research assistants will be working with young people with a recent onset of psychosis. Prior research experience is required. An interest in clinical psychology and exercise is preferred. Research assistants are expected to commit 6-9 hours per week, with the opportunity to receive course credit. For more information on MAP Training visit: https://www.maptrainmybrain.com If interested, please email Docia Demmin at dld194@ubhc.rutgers.edu to request an application.